

From Hunger to Hope: The Role of Food Price Inflation in Urban Poor Participation in the 2024 Bangladesh Revolution and Post-Revolutionary Food Security Satisfaction

Mariha Tahsin, PhD

Department of Economics
University of Essex

Interview of a Protest Participant

“For me, it was the price of rice and oil. By mid-2024, the price of essentials had skyrocketed, and despite working long hours, I couldn’t afford to feed my family properly. When my children started going to bed hungry, I knew I couldn’t stay silent. I wasn’t alone in this—the market was full of frustrated voices, and it became clear that something had to change.”