

Climate-Resilient Social Protection for Nutrition in Female - Headed Cancer-Affected Households in Sri Lanka

Key Message: Climate stressors worsen nutritional risks and caregiving challenges in cancer-affected, female-headed households. Strengthened, well-integrated social protection supported by effective policy oversight is essential to reduce vulnerability and promote sustainable wellbeing.

Presenter Name, Organization

Noorul Jinnah Zeron Anas, Medical Radiotherapist, The National Hospital Kandy, & Postgraduate Fellow, University of Colombo.

